

Evidence Document

for Higher Learning Commission Reaccreditation

Document Title: “Becoming a Man of Distinction” Workshop Challenges Male Students

Office of Origin: Center for Multicultural and Diversity Education

Document Summary:

Bryant K. Smith, founder and creator of the male development seminar “Life Station” and “The Remix Hip Hop Leadership Institute,” resented the workshop “Becoming a Man of Distinction” on March 9, 2016. The workshop, part of the new Men of Distinction program for young men participating in the Academic Enrichment Program, was designed to challenge male students to self-reflect and discuss the diverse and changing image of manhood.

University of Arkansas

NEWS

Thursday, April 28, 2016

'Becoming a Man of Distinction' Workshop Challenges Male Students

March 07, 2016

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. – Bryant K. Smith, founder and creator of the male development seminar “Life Station” and “The Remix Hip Hop Leadership Institute,” will present the workshop “Becoming a Man of Distinction,” from 6 to 8 p.m. Wednesday, March 9, in Arkansas Union 507.

The workshop designed to challenge male students to self-reflect and discuss the diverse and changing image of manhood. The Center for Multicultural and Diversity Education will host this free event. All students are welcome, and food will be provided.

This workshop is part of the new Men of Distinction program for young men participating in the Academic Enrichment Program. Men of Distinction is supported by a grant from the Winthrop Rockefeller Foundation to develop leadership and learning opportunities and to improve academic engagement, retention and achievement among men of color at the University of Arkansas. The program is actively recruiting new members.

CONTACTS

Christopher Anderson, coordinator, Men of Distinction
Center for Multicultural and Diversity Education
479-575-7399, cja012@uark.edu